RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

BROOKLINE TO RAISE $104,000 BEFORE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Practical and Effective System Devised for the Campaign.

Chairman Ernest B. Dane of the local Red Cross campaign committee stated on Friday morning that if the town of Brookline is to do her full share, $104,000 more will have to be raised here before next Wednesday. The campaign committee and the various teams at work in the local field will bend every effort during the few remaining days to reach the $104,000 mark set for Brookline.

Although the campaign all over New England was scheduled to begin Monday, the canvassing did not start in many cities and towns until Tuesday, owing to the holiday. The Brookline teams did not get started until Wednesday, and for this reason Chairman Dane has decided to extend the campaign to next Wednesday. Plans for the campaign were outlined by Chairman Dane, at a public meeting held in the Town Hall on Monday evening. J. Randolph Coolidge, Jr., delivered the principal address, in which he strongly emphasized the absolute need of money for the Red Cross. The need, he said, is now, and the need is great; the money asked for is little enough when one considered what it is to be spent for.

Mr. Coolidge said the government was totally inexperienced and more willing than able to get the ponderous machinery of the Red Cross organization well under way. This condition is not due to indifference on the part of the government, but to inability to meet the demand. The National organization is a heavy thing to get started. Much depends on the people of Brookline, who don't need to be told what their duty is; their generosity and thoughtfulness may be relied upon.

A simple though highly effective system for the practical working out of the canvassing operations, was devised by the committee, it being patterned after the public library system. Long tables were arranged at the front of the hall, and tacked to these were typewritten lists of over 4,000 names of property owners, arranged alphabetically. Each name was numbered.

At the close of the meeting, those who volunteered to work on the canvassing teams were requested to look over the lists and select from them the names of persons therein with whom they were personally acquainted. The worker wrote his own name opposite the names he selected on the list, indicating that he would interview them in regard to making contributions.

EVANGELINE WEED

OF 6 ORIENTY ROAD, BROOKLINE, WHO, AS A PROTEGE OF HELEN M. WINSLOW, HAS ACHIEVED MARKED SUCCESS AS AN ENTERTAINER IN MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC MONOLOGUES

Each worker was then given a slip by Town Clerk Baker, bearing the numbers opposite the names selected. These slips were presented at another table in the rear of the hall, whereupon cards corresponding to the names and numbers selected were presented to the canvassers. These cards authorized the canvassers to solicit funds from the persons whose names appeared thereon.

Thirteen canvassing teams were organized during the evening, including three women's teams. The Special Aid Society members made up one of the teams. Mrs. William P. Shreve was appointed captain of one of the others, and Miss Marion Cutler captain of the third.

The men's teams are being captained by George S. Baldwin, Rev. Dr. William Wallace Luffe, Charles H. Egles, Joseph Wing, Russell Coolidge, Roland C. Hopkins, Arthur Hood, Hiram Starr Ballou, Harold P. Williams, and Frank A. Merrill. The canvassing teams were instructed to report daily at the Red Cross headquarters at the Brookline Trust Company.

A box containing about 820 of electric light receipts, the property of the Edison Company, was stolen from the Lyceum Pharmacy, last Tuesday. Three young men entered the store and while the proprietor's attention was engaged elsewhere, it is supposed one of the men went behind the counter and took the box from a shelf. The proprietor noticed the three men prior to the robbery, but suspicion was not directed to them until after they had departed. The robbery was reported to the police.

FISHER HILL COAL POCKET

RAILROAD DENIES PETITION OF METROPOLITAN COAL CO.

Appeal Taken to Public Service Commission and Hearing on July 6.

The Fisher Hill Associates have been informed that the Boston and Albany Railroad has denied the petition of the Metropolitan Coal Company for a railroad siding on its property at Chestnut Hill Avenue. The coal company wishes to utilize a piece of property in the vicinity of the railroad bridge, to facilitate the handling of coal and, it is understood, intends to erect a coal pocket there.

Failing in its efforts to get the railroad siding, the coal company has appealed to the Public Service Commission, as the result of which the Commission will give a hearing on the proposition on July 6.

Fisher Hill residents and those who reside just over the line in Boston have registered a strong protest against the proposed erection of a coal pocket, believing that such a structure will prove detrimental to property. The Fisher Hill organization appointed a special committee last week, to see what could be done to prevent the carrying out of the coal pocket plans. This committee, of which Edward D. VerPlanck is chairman, is working in conjunction with the Aberdeen Club. Both organizations will send representatives to the hearing on July 6 to present their side of the case to the Public Service Commission.

MONDAY NIGHT CLUB OF ARTS AND LETTERS

Miss Florence Gordon Williams, the English pianist, who has spent most of her life in Germany, was the visiting soloist last Monday evening at Whitney Hall, masterfully rendering her musical numbers. Mrs. Jean Paul Selinger, honorary member of the Club, gave three of her original poems, with musical background played by Miss Williams. Mr. C. Sheldon Holcomb's rich baritone voice was heard in four numbers, with Miss Keniston at the piano. An informal reception and general dancing closed the evening, with many prominent guests present.

On Monday, June 25th, the Club will hold its last social meeting of the season, tendering a reception to Miss Venetia Herron of South America, who will read some of her "Jungle Legends" and from her latest book "Perfume and Poison." Mme. Martha Richardson, of the Paris Opera Co., an honorary member of the Club who sang so magnificently Die Meise (the Mirror Scene) from Thou two weeks ago, will again honor the Club by repeating the same programme by special request, with Mr. Harold Vinal at the piano.
